“The profession of designing buildings, open areas, communities, and other artificial constructions and environments, usually with some regard to aesthetic effect. Architecture often includes design or selection of furnishings and decorations, supervision of construction work, and the examination, restoration, or remodeling of existing buildings.”

“Architecture is a passion, a vocation, a calling — as well as a science and a business. It has been described as a social art and also an artful science. Architecture must be of the highest quality of design. Architecture provides, in the words of Marcus Vitruvius, the great Roman architect and historian, “firmness, commodity and delight.”

ALUMNI: OUR PRIDE

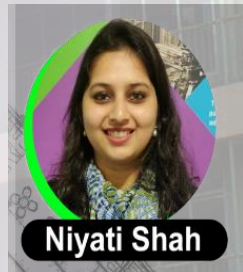

As a part of the founding batch at VSoA, we have seen it grow tremendously in infrastructure, education and right as a facilitator, as a facilitator, right from 40 to 200 plus students. From the point when we used projectors for seminars to having seminars in a fully equipped Auditorium, we were fortunate enough to have our convocation ceremony in the auditorium due to the efforts put in by our Principal and Faculty, which truly is a milestone to achieve in a short period of time.

We were blessed to have two headstrong pillars as founding professors who paved the way the institute imparted education and maintained its decorum, today 30+ educators follow them in their own & unique ways, making sure the students graduating from this institute are a class apart, and their efforts have been awarded by great feedback from the employers of these graduates, who have accepted VSoA to be unique in their own ways. The management has played a major role to make everything possible for us as students, giving the support needed to pursue what was required to make us better architects & human beings.

"My experience being a part of VSoA has been very vivid. I appreciate the education received with the values imparted to us as it helped me mould myself professionally and personally. There was good amount of interaction between juniors and Seniors which also helped in the growth of this beautiful culture of the college and created the VSoA family. There was a cordial relationship between Teachers and students and they always lifted us up in paving out our individual paths Teachers were always ready to mentor us and helped us develop critical perspective towards things. They made sure that our technical knowledge, ability to visualize, problem solving attitude become our strength in the market and this made us stand out once we step out in the industry. 'We set our own standards' was also one of the key statements by our Principal and it helped me realize that never settle for sub-standard things. The five years spent here were amazing and helped me groom myself efficiently through various co-curricular activities like Student Body events, Sports Days, Annual Days and Study Tours to various parts of the country. Overall, it has been a truly nurturing experience."
