VIVA School of Architecture (VSoA) is an institution affiliated to University of Mumbai (UoM) conducting a professional degree course. Based on the course specialization (as conceptualized by Council of Architecture (CoA) and requirements of the syllabus considering education standards formulated by UoM); the school pursues research with study tools, and their references based on History, Planning and Settlement Studies, Local and Regional Context, Sociology, Structural Science, Environment, Heritage, Research, Analysis, and Investigation of any project as an inception to the Design understanding and learning.

VSoA - Entrepreneurship and Innovation (Alumni Association) supports students and alumni for startup projects through campus. The infrastructure of the campus is made available to the start-up seekers of the institute to promote Entrepreneurship skills. The availability of such resources without any need for external aid or financial burden helps formation of start-up culture in the institution. The eco-system not only encourages participation but also provides inspiration to other students on the campus.

Platforms provided through infrastructure at VSoA include: Permanent Exhibition and Material Library which is open to Students for reference and to share knowledge from past work, it is also open for students to keep on updating the Material Lab with new materials and innovative solutions in Architecture, Engineering and Construction (AEC) Industry. The school has made provisions for the students with infrastructure facilities such as Computer lab, Environmental Lab, Surveying & Leveling Lab, Library and e-library remote access, and Model making Room which gives students space to research, analyze, think, innovate and participate in competitions at national-international level.

Workshops at VSoA allow students to innovate Model Making, exploring joineries and techniques that can be replicated in wooden works. A decent and varied types, mediums and sizes of Plotting and Printing within the campus where students can innovate and experiment with their presentation. Dedicated Library with physical as well as digital facilities (E-resources & Scanning) and Archive room where all the data and knowledge from the students' work, Competition entries, Mapping of Urban neighborhoods etc. are archived after the creation.

Defined by CoA norms and UoM syllabus; Research, Innovation and Learning extensions are ingrained in the system of teaching learning pedagogy. Institution has adopted various initiatives under Indian Knowledge System (IKS) policy as aforementioned. Documentation of Local precincts and their study and analysis, Mapping of growth and development as per the development plan of VVCMC, Documentation of research conducted by students in the Design Dissertation for Semester IX, and Introduction of Electives courses / Workshops under College Projects are to name a few.

Apart from the initiatives taken by the institute in various areas to encourage innovations, creation and transfer of knowledge amongst students; The institute also encourages participation in professional competitions individually or as a team for innovation and creation of knowledge. Initiatives devised for knowledge transfer through academic research and architectural paper writing culture at Institution. Participation in Teacher training programs, conducting teachers training programs in collaboration with the CoA-Training & Research Cell (TRC) help in promoting Research based design ideologies.

The details of the K-hub as per each year has been attached in the document herewith.

- 2020-2021:

Due to Covid – 19 restrictions the institute was functioning on remote access and online mode, pertaining to the same the vendor for the renewal of k-hub were not available and hence this year the renewal could not be done.

However, the institution renewed k-hub as soon as the offline education system was brought in place after the relaxation of Covid-19 regulations.
